Think not of them, thou hast thy music too, - While barred clouds bloom the soft-dying day And touch the stubble-plains with rosy hue; Then in a wailful choir the small gnats mourn Among the river shallows, borne aloft Or sinking as the light wind lives or dies; And full-grown lambs loud bleat from hilly bourn; Hedge-cricketts sing, and now with treble soft The redbreast whistles from a garden-croft; And gathering swallows twitter in the skies. Now such a story who ever heard? Ob ich den Zwist entscheide?

Full well I know my touch doth burn like fire, That my voice stings the sense like smitten lyre; I am the queen of sensuous delight; Past years are sealed with the signet of my might; And at my feet pale present kneels a buyer. Helen Hunt Jackson - Little Anna of Tharau, my riches, my wealth, you are my soul, my own flesh and blood.
